

OBITUARY

Prof. N. P. Benawri (1917-1998)

Prof. N. P. Benawri, M.D. (Hons), F.A.M.S., Emeritus Professor at Gandhi Medical College, Bhopal, breathed his last on 19 February 1998. Born on 5 July 1917 in Mathura, he was a product of K.G. Medical College, Lucknow. Prof. Benawri was a distinguished teacher and had taught physiology in Medical Colleges at Lucknow, Lahore, Patna, Darbhanga, Jaipur and Gwalior. Subsequently he assumed a wider role as Dean successively of Medical Colleges at Jabalpur and Raipur, and finally as Advisor on Medical Education in Madhya Pradesh. He was the founder chairman of Madhya Pradesh Premedical Examination Board. During his long and distinguished career, Prof. Benwari also had occasion to chair the physiology section of Indian Science Congress and to be a Referee for the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine. Prof. Benwari was elected an Honorary Life Member of APPI. May his soul rest in peace.